'DONS AND ENDS:

// Cameron Benford has played 133 career games for the Mastodons. He is tied with John Konchar, who played 133 games from 2014-19. Once Benford steps on the court on Thursday, he will own the record all to himself at 134.

// Per College Basketball Reference, the Mastodons are one of nine teams in the nation to use the same starting five for every game this season. The others are: Creighton, Gonzaga, Murray State, North Texas, San Francisco, Syracuse, Toledo and Virginia Tech.

// The 'Dons have nine games of double-digit steals this season, including five in the last six games. The Mastodons have 61 games with double-digit steals since Jon Coffman became the program's head coach in 2014-15.

// Johnathan DeJurnett, who scored 12 total points last season in his freshman season, has 53 this season. He has a field goal in nine straight games.

// The 'Dons have held a lead for at least five minutes in every game this season except for losses at SIUE and at Wright State.

// Seven different players have led the team in scoring for a game this season. That ties a single-season high for a Mastodon team under head coach Jon Coffman. The 2019-20 team also had seven scoring leaders.

// The Mastodons allowed 74.0 points per game through the first 11 contests of the season. Over the last 12 the 'Dons are giving up 64.4 per game.

// When Jalon Pipkins shoots better than 50 percent from the floor, the 'Dons are 7-0 this season.

// Per KenPom, the Mastodons are the 19th most experienced team in the nation.

// The 'Dons are giving up 69.0 points per game. Only nine times in program history have the 'Dons finished a season giving up less than 70.0 points per game. They've done this only five times as a Division I program.

// The Mastodons rank 36th in the nation in 3-pointers per game (9.3).

// The 'Dons are 33rd in the nation in steals per game (8.7) and 25th in total steals (199).

// Per KenPom, the Mastodons recorded the highest Effective field goal percentage in program history (77 percent) in the home win over Robert Morris (Jan. 21).

ON SUNDAY'S GREEN BAY WIN:

// The 'Dons shot 3-of-12 from three. It stands as the fewest 3-pointers the 'Dons have attempted in a game since making 6-of-11 at Denver on Feb. 19, 2015.

// The 55 points the Mastodons allowed stands as their best defensive performance of the season against a Division I team.

FROM THE LINE:

// The 'Dons are 11th in the nation and 2nd in the Horizon League in free throw shooting (78.2 percent). The program record for single-season free throw percentage came in 2010-11 at 77.2 percent.

// In league play the 'Dons are shooting 79.9 percent (154-of-194) from the free throw line.

// Free throw shooting in league play: Jarred Godfrey (33-of-37), Jalon Pipkins (32-of-35), Bobby Planutis (18-of-18), Damian Chong Qui (30-of-34) and Deonte Billups (12-of-13).

// The Mastodons shot 16-of-16 from the free throw line on Dec. 2 against Wright State. It stands as the most free throws the Mastodons have made in a Division I contest while connecting on 100 percent of their attempts.

WHY MASTODONS?

It all started about 10,000 years ago ...

That's when mastodons roamed the southern Great Lakes region of North America. These stocky versions of modern elephants reached heights of about ten feet at the shoulder, with tusks that curved upward that were six feet or more in length. Mastodons were browsers who fed mostly on leaves and twigs from small trees and shrubs.

One such mastodon found its final resting place about two miles south of Angola, Indiana, on land that would eventually become part of Orsie Routsong's farm. In the fall of 1968, Routsong decided to expand a small pond on his property. An excavator was hired and instructed to pile the excavated material around the edge of the pond. Several days after the excavation was finished a heavy rain storm pounded the piles of dirt.

The next day, a young neighbor boy of Routsong's discovered a large bone in one of the dirt piles. Routsong knew it was something out of the ordinary, so he called Jack Sunderman, chair of the IPFW Geology Department, to identify the bone, and to ask for advice on what to do with it. Sunderman says his first question was, "How big is the bone," with Routsong's answer being "pretty big, maybe 3 or 4 feet long."

When Sunderman got to the farm, he identified the bone as a leg bone of a mastodon. He told Routsong a skeleton like this would have scientific and instructional value if a large portion of it could be located. Routsong agreed, and also agreed to have the IPFW Geology Department do the excavation. Sunderman got two more faculty members, Geoffrey Matthews and Bernd Erdtmann, and several geology students to help in the project.

After all the mastodon bones were collected, cleaned, and preserved, Routsong agreed to have the adult mastodon skeleton placed on permanent display at IPFW; the skull of a nearby baby mastodon is now on loan to Science Central.

In the spring of 1970, The Communicator (IPFW's student newspaper) began a drive to come up with a mascot for IPFW. Some of the suggested choices included the Boiler-Hoosiers, Warhawks, Marauders, Frontiersmen, Pioneers, Elfs, and Hobbits. Those names and others came from student suggestions. Steve Pettyjohn, who served as the student body president in 1968-69, wrote a letter to the editor about the school mascot. In his letter, Pettyjohn extolled the virtues of choosing the mastodon as IPFW's mascot: "It sounds different, strange - that's exactly why. It's different and yes, even strange. For God's Sakes, let's have the courage to be a little different."

In the meantime, former Indiana Congressman Mark Souder, who served as student body president in 1969-70, recalls being lobbied by the Geology Club to choose the mastodon.

According to Nusbaumer, "Souder appointed a committee in student government to select a name although he was lobbying hard for the mastodon." After some discussion on the subject, Souder says a vote was taken by the committee and the mastodon came out the winner. Souder finished his recollection with these thoughts: "History shows that the advocacy of the geology club was correct. The fast, decisive action of the elected student government—though it did not please everyone and was not a precedent that the University desired to see—has also been upheld by history as Purdue Fort Wayne regularly scores high in any list of unique university nicknames; even in this era when everybody strives to be different. We did it decades ago."
