

PRIVATEERS SWEEP TITLES IN SLIDELL TOURNEY ... March 14, 2000

(complete results follow story)

SLIDELL, La. -- The University of New Orleans men's golf team won team and individual titles Tuesday in its New Orleans Collegiate Classic at Oak Harbor Golf Club.

The Privateers finished with a two-round total of 594, seven shots better than runner-up Jacksonville State.

UNO won its tournament for the first time since 1991 and earned its second victory of the season. The other victory was in October at the Louisiana Tech Invitational.

UNO junior Casey Crain earned his third individual title of the season. His total was 1-over 145, and his even-par 72 was the lowest score of the final round. Teammate Andy Ballinger tied for fourth at 148, and Chip Zahn tied for seventh at 149.

Jon Roddy of Jackson State and Ted Ward of Centenary, first-round leaders at 69, both closed with rounds in the 80s. Most players failed to improve on their first-round scores because of strong easterly winds.

UNO is 34-2-1 in its last three tournaments, including a pair of ties for second place.
