IUPUI Athletics History

The birth of the intercollegiate athletics program at IUPUI occurred January 14, 1971, when the Faculty Council approved a recommendation from its Athletics Affairs Committee that "IUPUI engage in intercollegiate sports and become a regular member of the NCAA as soon as possible."

In making its recommendations, the committee said it felt that "intercollegiate sports were necessary to complete the University's relationship to the community at large and to its alumni." The committee went on to say that it felt that an intercollegiate program would be "a positive morale factor for students and would help develop an identification with the institution."

The IUPUI intercollegiate athletics program officially began competition during the 1972-73 academic year with the introduction of men's basketball as the university's first varsity sport. The men's program expanded during the 1974-75 season with the addition of golf and tennis to varsity status, and then again in the 1987-88 academic year when soccer gained varsity status. Baseball replaced golf as a varsity sport during the 1979-80 campaign. Men's golf was reintroduced to the intercollegiate lineup in 1994-95.

Intercollegiate athletics at IUPUI expanded to include women's sports in 1975-76, with the introduction of basketball, softball and volleyball as varsity sports. Women's tennis was added in 1989-90.

IUPUI received national acclaim in the sports world in 1987 when the Pan American Games were hosted in Indianapolis and on the downtown campus. With the hosting of the event, world class facilities for swimming, track, soccer and softball were built across the south end of campus.

With the addition of men's and women's cross country and women's swimming and diving in the fall of 1997, the IUPUI intercollegiate athletic program was represented by 12 intercollegiate teams that completed at the NCAA Division II level.

In the beginning, the intercollegiate program was unaffiliated except for an associate membership in the NCAA. In 1978, IUPUI joined the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), and in January of 1993, the institution's application for membership in Division II of the NCAA was approved.

While affiliated with the NAIA, IUPUI teams won 32 state and regional championships. IUPUI reached the Sweet Sixteen in men's basketball (1989-90), the Final Four in women's basketball (1990-91) and finished second nationally in women's volleyball (1991-92). Beginning in 1983, the IUPUI softball team made nine consecutive appearances in the NAIA National Tournament, finishing as high as third on three occasions.

Intercollegiate athletics at IUPUI made its way to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I level as the Trustees of Indiana University approved the move at their Oct. 30, 1997 meeting in New Albany. That opened the door for IUPUI to join a new level of competition in the NCAA.

IUPUI then was admitted into the Summit League (formerly Mid-Continent Conference), announced Nov. 11, 1997 at a press conference on the campus of IUPUI. Upon entrance to the Mid-Con, IUPUI was involved in scheduling and competition for championships beginning in the 1998-99 academic year. The addition of men's swimming and diving and women's soccer in the fall of 1998 brought IUPUI's total to 14 sports. The total was bumped to 15 on Oct. 20, 1999, when the university announced that women's golf would become a varsity sport starting in 2000. The total dropped back to 14 when the university announced on May 18, 2001, the discontinuation of the baseball program.

IUPUI has enjoyed considerable success in its first nine years as a Division I school, not only athletically, but academically.

The Jaguars have earned NCAA Tournament bids in men's soccer, men's golf, men's basketball and women's tennis as well as Mid-Con Championships in volleyball and men's tennis. IUPUI student-athletes have been recognized as Mid-Con Athletes of the Year nine times, with coaches earning numerous Coach of the Year honors.

IUPUI's athletic teams have also excelled in the classroom. The women's tennis team has been chosen as an All-Academic Team by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association for four consecutive years. The men's cross country team has been recognized by the United States Cross Country Coaches Association as Academic All-American the past four seasons, while the women's team earned the same honor from the Women's Intercollegiate Cross Country Coaches Association six times. In 2001-02, the women's basketball team was selected by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association to its Top 25 Honor Roll. In the fall of 2002, the athletic department as a whole was honored by The USA Today and the NCAA for having the highest improvement in graduation rate in the country for its category. In 2003, The USA Today and NCAA recognized IUPUI again - this time for graduating more than the previously counted cohort.

Individually, IUPUI has had two student-athletes earn First Team Academic All-America honors, while making a precent of ranking among the conference leaders in academic honorees.

IUPUI has also established a pattern of commitment to serving their community. The Jaguars have averaged over nearly 1,100 hours of community service the past four years, taking part in youth clinics, hosting a Canned Food Drive and Adopt-A-Family programs and participating in several charity walk-a-thons.

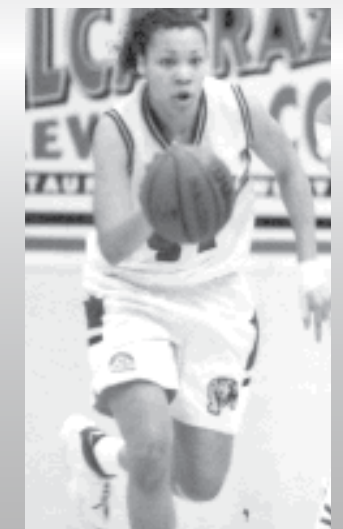

IUPUI Athletics began with a men's basketball team in 1972. It has since grown into a 14-sport NCAA Division I program that competes in The Summit League.

Brent Musburger (above) and then Chancellor Gerald Bepko chat in the CBS Studios as Indianapolis and the IUPUI campus was the site for the 1987 Pan Am Games.

Former women's basketball player Tiffany Kyser (below) was named First Team Academic All-America and was a finalist for the 2003 NCAA Woman of the Year Award.

Volleyball standout Devika Bellamy took time to pose for a picture in downtown Indianapolis. The IUPUI campus is just west of downtown, a moving city of over 1.5 million in the metropolitan area.

Academic Facilities

Over the past five years, IUPUI's campus has grown by leaps and bounds. The recent construction of Inlow Hall (home of the Lawrence School of Law), the Informatics and Communications Technology Complex and Eskenazi Hall (which houses the IU Herron School of Art) puts the IUPUI campus among the nation's elite academic facilities.

Campus Life

IUPUI recently broke ground on a new $50 million Campus Center that will become an icon for the urban research university. The plans call for a 179-foot bell tower of limestone and glass that will serve as a navigational point for people on and off campus. The building will also feature a 250-seat theater, 600-seat dining area and a 1,000-seat multi-purpose room. It is estimated that 8,000-10,000 people will utilize the facility on a daily basis.

Athletics Facilities

The IUPUI campus boasts some of the nation's premier athletic facilities including the IU Natatorium and the Michael A. Carroll Track & Soccer Stadium. The Natatorium is among the fastest olympic sized pools in the world and has been the venue of 90 American records and 11 world records.

The Track & Soccer Stadium has hosted prestigious events including past U.S. Olympic Team Trials and the U.S. Open Cup Soccer Finals. Built in 1982, the stadium originally cost $7 million and received a new drainage system, track surface and soccer field in 1997. In 1998, a state-of-the-art timing system was installed.

Also on the IUPUI campus is the Indianapolis Tennis Center and the National Institute for Fitness and Sport. The Tennis Center is the annual host of the RCA Championships and features six indoor courts and both clay and hardcourt outdoor surfaces.

The National Institute for Fitness and Sport (NIFS) is a 65,000 square-foot facility that includes a 200 meter indoor running/walking track and a regulation basketball court. There are over 100 pieces of cardio equipment and more than 40 group fitness classes offered. The facility also offers a complete free weight room, comfortable locker rooms complete with a sauna, steam rooms and whirlpools.

IUPUI student-athletes from all 14 varsity sports do much of their weight training and conditioning at the facility.

JAGUARS ATHLETICS CLUB

Did you know that the IUPUI Athletics Department pays out nearly $1.5 million annually in athletics aid to student-athletes? Last year, the IUPUI Jaguars Athletics Club (JAC) saw a 6% growth in donor participation and 7% increase in unrestricted giving.

Are you in?

JAGUARS ATHLETICS CLUB

The Jaguars Athletics Club's primary purpose is to raise scholarship funds to build, support and maintain a competitive first-class Division I athletics program for student-athletes in 14 intercollegiate sports (men's basketball, tennis, soccer, cross country, swimming and diving and golf, and women's basketball, tennis, soccer, cross country, swimming and diving, golf, softball and volleyball).

Supporting intercollegiate athletics invests in our future by providing scholarship aid to student-athletes. In addition, intercollegiate athletics offers the student-athlete an opportunity to develop leadership, discipline and initiative, while pursuing academic goals.

Over the course of a year, the JAC hosts numerous special events to help spur on the effort. The events allow IUPUI student-athletes, coaches and administrators the opportunity to foster positive relationships with influential members of the Indianapolis-community. The events also help build a connection with IUPUI alumni and current student-athletes.

The annual Basketball Tipoff Luncheon (above) attracts hundreds of IUPUI basketball fans and is held at the University Place Hotel ballroom. Fans get the opportunity to meet members of the men's and women's teams, while getting a season preview from head coaches Ron Hunter and Shann Hart.

The Michael A. Carroll golf outing raised over $30,000 in 2007, with the proceeds going towards student-athlete scholarships. (right, from l-r) Vice Chancellor Bob Martin, Athletics Director Mike Moore and Committee Chair Doug Bennett posed with the check prior to last year's event, held at Bent Tree Golf Course in Zionsville.

The Senior Student-Athlete Brunch was created to honor IUPUI's graduating class, while giving each of the coaches the opportunity to honor the individual student-athletes. The event, created in 2003, has since blossomed into one of the favorite events among the department. (Right) 2006 seniors Mallory Stemple and Brandon Cole posed with their Mel Garland Awards, given to IUPUI's top athletes annually.

Michael A. Carroll Golf Outing

It is difficult to overstate the importance of the late Michael A. Carroll to the birth and development of the athletics program at IUPUI. For more than a decade, he was its number one advocate, fund-raiser and cheerleader. In 1981, he organized what is now the Jaguars Athletics Club. A year later, he coordinated the IUPUI fund raising golf outing that now bears his name. Until his untimely death in a 1992 mid-air plane crash, this former Lilly Endowment executive nurtured, nudged and lassoed many Indianapolis business leaders to share his vision for a "big league" collegiate athletics program at IUPUI.

Although he carried other enormous responsibilities in a civic and political career that spanned 25 years, IUPUI's growth seemed to be Mike's most enthusiastic avocation. IUPUI's evolution into NCAA Division I status would have left him beaming. However, he would have been the first to remind us that IUPUI is still a masterpiece in progress, never a finished work of art.

Basketball Tipoff Luncheon

The drive to the men's and women's basketball NCAA tournament begins with the tipoff luncheon. This is your chance to meet the men's and women's basketball teams and hear a preview of the upcoming season from head coaches Ron Hunter and Shann Hart. Widely known as one of the department's marquee events, the day typically features cutting edge multimedia in an intimate atmosphere, leaving the audience asking for more.

Athletics Auction

The auction is an exciting event, but the underlying message is serious - IUPUI's successful athletics program needs your support. The kickoff party will jump start the auction experience, providing an opportunity for alumni, family and friends to take part in an event to help support our outstanding student-athletes.

Jaguars Jaunt

The goal of the IUPUI Athletics Department is to provide students with the opportunity to compete in athletics while at the same time, earn a degree from one of the top two academic programs in the country. One way to provide such opportunities is through this new fall event to raise funds for women's scholarships. With more scholarship dollars, more female students will have a chance at a higher education. By participating in the walk, you are giving a gift that will make a huge impact to the overall athletics program.

Senior Student-Athlete Brunch

The mission of the Senior Brunch is simple - to celebrate the distinguished playing careers of IUPUI's graduating student-athletes. In its fourth year of existence, the Senior Brunch also marks the day when the end-of-year major awards are given out, while allowing all 11 IUPUI head coaches the opportunity to speak about their respective senior classes.

COMMUNITY ROLE MODELS

"As an urban campus located in the heart of Indiana's capital city and accessible to the largest range of students, IUPUI's core mission is providing quality educational opportunities," IUPUI Chancellor Charles Bantz said. "IUPUI will continue to enhance the resources of the city and region through teaching and learning, research and scholarship and civic engagement."

IUPUI earned the Mid-Continent Conference Sportsmanship Award in 2001, judged by its peers to be best in the league in demonstrating the ideals of sportsmanship.

IUPUI's student-athletes and coaches take responsibility to the community and academics as seriously as their commitment to their team. IUPUI men's basketball coach Ron Hunter was honored by the Black Coaches Association for "Images in Excellence", while the IUPUI softball, soccer, volleyball and cross country teams are easily among the most active community role models in the Central Indiana-area.

The IUPUI Athletics Department as a whole has been recognized by the NCAA and The USA Today twice in the past eight years for academic prowess.

As a group, IUPUI coaches, student-athletes and administrators put in nearly 1,800 hours during the 2006-07 year in community service activities. Since 2003, the department has averaged over 1,300 hours of community service activities per year. Student-athletes and coaches participated in clinics, speaking engagements and awareness programs, to name a few. Below is a listing of various activities in which the Jaguars have participated in the past few years:

- collected food for the annual Jam the Jaguars Bus Canned Food Drive
- participated in the Indianapolis Backpack Attack
- donated gifts for the Adopt-A-Family for the Hawthorne Center
- served as mentors for high school students

THE SUMMIT LEAGUE HISTORY

Now in its 26th year as an NCAA Division I athletics conference, The Summit League is in its first year under that name. In May 2007, the Presidents Council embraced the Summit Plan, a strategic plan that places a renewed emphasis on improving the academic and athletic performances of all its student-athletes. Included in the plan was the creation of a new image of the conference and the unveiling of a new name. The Summit League is the third name the conference has held as an NCAA sanctioned league.

The Summit League's current member schools are Centenary College of Louisiana, IPFW (Indiana University-Purdue University-Fort Wayne), IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), North Dakota State University, Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, South Dakota State University, Southern Utah University and Western Illinois University. The member schools pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Summit League sponsors 19 championship sports, which include: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's indoor track & field, men's and women's outdoor track & field, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.
